Clinic's director resigns

THE medical director of a controversial new walk-in clinic has resigned, slamming its vast expense, lack of new services for patients and the threat it poses to existing GP surgeries.

Dr Andrew Cornish, a Haverhill GP for 26 years, said he was proud to have been appointed last year as the Local Medical Director of the Suffolk PCT-backed Haverhill Crown Centre Clinic, as a gesture of support for the new facility by Haverhill's existing GPs.

But he has now decided to step down just months before the centre, which he branded a "missed opportunity", opens.

Dr Cornish expressed frustration that the clinic would not fulfill the wishes of the local forum group set up by Suffolk PCT in 2008 by bringing additional services to Haverhill – such as X-ray and ultrasound facilities – but would instead simply offer more GP services.

He said: "Suffolk PCT has always promised that the large sums of money being spent on this project – approaching £1 million per annum – would bring new services to Haverhill. It is now clear this claim is not true.

BY JO DEEKS

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

"The recent publication of services to be provided by the new Crown Centre clinic shows that nothing is being provided over and above that already available through existing GP practices and Suffolk Doctors on Call – who between them provide medical services in Haverhill from 8am to 11pm, 365 days of the year.

Dr Cornish also expressed fears that rather than complement existing GP services the new practice would be run in competition to them.

He added: "This project was supposed to be a partnership. This also proves to be untrue. It now appears Suffolk PCT will be investing heavily with the new provider in direct competition to the existing local GP services, and not in a partnership with local GPs to bring much needed new services such as X-ray and ultrasound to Haverhill."

Assault on High Street

A MAN was assaulted whilst walking with his girlfriend in Haverhill.

The incident happened in the High Street at around 12.50am on Saturday.

A man spoke to another man outside a pub and when he walked off with his girlfriend, the other man followed.

The other man grabbed at the couple, who ran off, but he caught up with them outside a bank. He assaulted the man, who suffered facial injuries.

The attacker is described as white, in his mid 20s, around 6 ft tall, of medium build with spiky hair and was wearing a pink polo shirt, a beige jacket and jeans.

Calls in relation to this incident should be made to Pc Andrew Green at Haverhill police on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555111.

Chorus line: young performers bring their own soft toys with them during the new Melody Bear dance sessions.

Welder admits drink driving

A WELDER who was stopped driving out of a pub car park had almost twice the legal level of alcohol in his breath, a court has heard.

Gary Reid, 33, admitted an excess alcohol offence before Bury St Edmunds magistrates court.

Reid, of Elm Close, Haverhill, was fined £320 and banned from driving for 17 months. He said: "I went out the night before and this was the day after, it was a silly error."

Man found unconscious

A MAN was taken to hospital after being found unconscious on Haverhill Recreation Ground.

Suffolk police confirmed that concerns had been raised about the safety of a man who had been seen in Leiston Road at around 8.45am on Saturday. The man was found at the Recreation Ground in Camps Road at 10am and taken to hospital.

Victim suffers head injuries

A MAN suffered facial and head injuries when he was assaulted in a churchyard at Camps Road, Haverhill, between 4pm and 4.05pm last Thursday. Calls in relation to this incident should be made to Pc Ben Vann at Haverhill police on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555111.

Melody Bear helps tots take first steps in world of dance

A DANCE teacher has joined forces with a lovable bear to run a new class for younger children.

Colette Simeonidis has been successfully running classes for older children at Haverhill for the past six years and when she came across the "Melody Bear" syllabus, was immediately drawn to it.

Colette said: "It is for younger children in the world of dance. It promotes co-ordination and agility and best of all physical fitness. Imagery is paramount and everything works around a wonderful teddy bear called Melody Bear. There is also a boy bear called Milligan."

Colette is starting to introduce Melody Bear into her class at the Leiston Social Centre for the younger children.

The children are encouraged to bring their own teddies or soft toys to class as well. She will continue to teach Baby Jazz, but would like to offer this syllabus to nurseries and play schools as well.

Heartfelt thanks for lifesaving gear

THOUSANDS of cardiac patients are set to benefit from new diagnostic machinery at West Suffolk Hospital made possible by a donation from the British Heart Foundation.

The £105,000 state-of-the-art Echo machine has been purchased following a £70,000 donation from the charity, with the remaining funds provided by the hospital.

The machine, which replaces aging current equipment, uses ultrasound to allow cardiologists to clearly see the inner workings of a beating heart.

Dr Evelyn Lee, consultant cardiologist at West Suffolk Hospital, said: "We are extremely grateful to the British Heart Foundation for their generous donation which has allowed us to purchase this state of the art equipment. Thousands of patients are set to benefit as a result.

"It provides clear, detailed, 'live' pictures of the heart in motion and analyses the patterns of blood flow, helping us to look closely at the structure and function of heart valves and heart muscle. It also allows us to better identify congenital defects, such as hole in the heart."

Dr Lee added: "The greater quality and accuracy of the new Echo machine will really improve our ability to diagnose and guide the treatment of heart disease while also allowing us to do certain specialised echo scans locally instead of having to refer patients to other centres."

In return for its generous donation, the hospital is supporting the British Heart Foundation's fundraising efforts in the west of Suffolk.

It is hoped the charity may later be able to help with the purchase a smaller, more portable machine which could be easily moved to patients' bedsides.

Brenda Clabburn, fundraising and volunteer manager for the British Heart Foundation, said: "Heart and circulatory disease is the UK's biggest killer.

"We are delighted to have been able to help provide this state of the art equipment at West Suffolk Hospital, which will benefit patients for many years to come.

"We provide support and care for cardiac patients by funding specialist nurses and donating equipment to hospitals, first aiders and emergency services - but we always need more help."

She added: "We rely heavily on fundraising and volunteers to continue our important work and would love to hear from anyone in west Suffolk who can help."

Anyone interested in making a donation or volunteering for the charity should contact Brenda on (01953) 450210 or email clabburnb@bhf.org.uk

Bureau hit by 111 per cent rise in inquiries

BY JO DEEKS

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

HAVERHILL'S Citizens Advice Bureau (CAB) has seen a dramatic rise in work as the credit crunch starts to bite.

It is having to extend its opening hours to cope with a huge influx of new inquiries – with benefit issues alone up by 175 per cent.

Brigitte Haig, bureau manager, said extra funding received from Suffolk County Council had allowed staff to take on more work, especially case work for benefits claims.

The extra eight opening hours on Mondays, Tuesdays, and Thursdays and telephone advice on Wednesdays are being funded by the Citizens Advice Additional Hours of Advice Project, which received Government cash in response to the economic downturn.

Ms Haig said: "All client problems are now assessed by a gateway interview and clients are encouraged to take action themselves wherever possible.

"The high increase in the number of new clients is likely to be due to the credit crunch. The county council credit crunch money was used to increase capacity for benefit, employment and debt advice casework."

New benefit cases had increased from 1,020 to 2,814 in the past year and there was also an 82 per cent increase in debt cases, up from 1,136 to 2,069.

Employment issue cases rose 120 per cent from 397 to 874, while housing issues rose by 22 per cent from 446 to 544.

There was a 111 per cent increase in all categories of inquiry from 3,888 to 8,187, a 34 per cent increase in all contacts from 4,578 to 6,124 and a 31 per cent increase in new clients from 649 to 964.

The drop-in service is open on Mondays, Tuesdays, and Thursdays, from 11am – 4pm, and Fridays from 11am – 2pm.

The advice line (01440) 704012 runs on Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays from 9.30am – 11am, and Wednesday from noon – 4pm.

Pupils play doctors and nurses

PUPILS listened to each other's heartbeat with a stethoscope and were bandaged up when they visited their local surgery.

A class of 26 children from Clements Primary School in Haverhill, aged between 5 and 7 years, went along to see what goes on at the nearby Clements surgery, as part of a health and growth topic they are studying.

Classroom assistant Joy Holgate accompanied them and said the surgery staff were very good with the children.

"They got to use stethoscopes on each other, blood pressure monitors, things to shine lights in their ears." She added:

"They absolutely loved it and they could not believe they got their arms, fingers and legs bandaged when they had not hurt themselves."

Ex-director brands clinic a 'missed opportunity'

Dr Cornish warned that the clinic would be paid significantly more per patient than existing practices.

He fears that in order to justify the costs healthcare developments for Haverhill will almost certainly be focused on the new clinic rather than existing practices and the current Out of Hours service – could suffer cuts in future.

He said: "This will be the real consequence of the new Darzi clinic in Haverhill. Local GPs have previously expressed concern about Suffolk PCT's decision to take £300,000 per annum funding away from local practices, and believe that preferential funding towards another GP practice in town is both punitive and unfair to the local established practices – particularly since the existing practices already have the building space to accommodate a population growth of up to a further 8,000 people in Haverhill.

"Having suffered stringent funding reductions local GP practices feel the £240,000 annual rental cost of the Crown Clinic building alone could have been used to increase clinical services to patients, such as providing three more doctors or several more nurses for the town, instead of an empty building."

A spokesman for the PCT confirmed that Dr Cornish had resigned from the post and said that a replacement would be appointed.

Road's pothole repairs

PART of a main road through Haverhill which has attracted numerous complaints about potholes is to be closed to traffic for six days in early June so that it can be resurfaced.

The A1307 Withersfield Road will be temporarily closed from the A1307/C669 roundabout to a point approximately 200 metres west of Park Road. The closure is required from June 10 to 16, with overnight working from 7pm to 6am, for Suffolk County Council resurfacing work.

During the closure the alternative route will be via the A143 Ehvinghausen Way – B1057 Bumpstead Road – A1017 Haverhill Bypass and vice versa.

Call for gardeners

A VOLUNTEER centre has plenty of gardens in need of some attention and desperately needs some gardeners to tend to them. Haverhill Volunteer Centre would like to hear from anyone who can spare a few hours to do basic gardening tasks such as grass cutting, weeding and tidying for elderly or disabled people. Anyone who could help should ring (01440) 708444.

Ladies charity night

A LADIES night is being organised by Haverhill Childminder's Group tomorrow to raise money for New Cangle Primary School.

The event is being held at the school, doors open at 7pm. Stands will be provided by Arevolution, Pampered Chef, Body shop, Jewellery, Usbourne Books, Bottom Draw and lots more.

The price is £5 for entrance, which includes a glass of wine.

He is hoping local companies and individuals will sponsor him.

Each teacher has his own science project to take to Antarctica, and results will be relayed to schools so students can have real scientific data to work on. After Mr Carvalho returns from Antarctica there will be a two year process of sharing his findings throughout schools in the UK as well as producing free teaching resources for students.

His science project involves the study of ultraviolet radiation and its impact on life in Antarctica.

The provisional title of his second project is "How Tough is your Sunscreen", and it will involve him taking sunscreens to the harshest of environments in Antarctica to see how they "behave" and whether they do what they say on the tin when faced with a truly extreme environment.

As part of a spin-off project he will educate students about the dangers of ultraviolet radiation and skin cancer, which is the fastest growing cancer in the UK.

A small environmental monitoring project is also being developed.

Mr Carvalho, who is Brazilian and has worked at Samuel Ward for the past six years, said: "The main objective of the project is to inspire teachers to become excellent practitioners, as well as encouraging students to become inspired by science, see it through different eyes and take on science at university.

"In order to achieve this goal I need to raise £15,000. I will be raising £4,000 of my own money and I will need to raise the other £11,000 by November 2010. The Fuchs Foundation contributes with the rest of the total amount for the expedition."

More details about the expedition are available at www.fuchsfoundation.org and anyone interested in sponsoring Mr Carvalho can contact the school on (01440) 761511.

Job smashes wooden fence

A YOUTH was seen breaking a wooden fence at Haverhill on Saturday night. Alcohol was stolen from the bar and calls in relation to this incident should be made to Pc Cheryl Claydon at Haverhill police on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555111.

Break-in at sports ground

THIEVES broke into a sports ground at Manor Road, Haverhill, between 9pm on Thursday, April 30 and 8.30am the next morning. They broke in by cutting a padlock and then forced entry to an outbuilding, but nothing was stolen. Calls in relation to this incident should be made to Pc Ian Davies at Haverhill police on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555111.

Rapid response nurses cut hospital visits

PATIENTS from across west Suffolk are receiving nursing care in their own homes via a new initiative designed to cut unnecessary hospital admissions.

Suffolk Community Healthcare is trialling a nurse-led rapid response service to provide treatment patients would normally need to go into hospital to receive.

In the six weeks it has been operating, its dedicated team of eight nurses has already helped 60 patients.

The team, based at West Suffolk Hospital, cover Haverhill and Newmarket, and care for a wide variety of conditions from managing deep vein thrombosis to treating infections with intravenous antibiotics. The team are also able to solve catheter problems and give specialist intravenous infusions.

The service, which has been in place since March, operates between 8am and 11pm.

Karen Large, operational service lead with Suffolk Community Healthcare, said: "This new service is already proving extremely beneficial to patients across west Suffolk, who are now able to receive treatment in their own homes rather than going back to hospital.

"This is especially useful in a rural area, where patients may not find it easy to travel. Instead, the nurse-led team will go to them, making sure they are getting the specialist care they need, as and when they need it, in the most appropriate place to aid their recovery."

Patients who are medically fit for discharge from hospital but still need additional treatments are also benefiting from the new service.

Gwen Nuttall, chief operating officer at West Suffolk Hospital, said: "The rapid response service is designed to provide patients with high quality care delivered outside of an acute hospital setting and within the community. This is really good news for patients, who can access the care they need in their own home without needing to come into hospital.

"The service has already proved popular and we look forward to continuing to work with our colleagues at Suffolk Community Healthcare over the coming weeks so even more people can benefit."

The scheme is initially running for a six-month trial period, after which demand will be reviewed.

Awards for next generation of sporting leaders

MIDDLE school pupils have been recognised as young leaders – and presented with certificates to prove it.

The pupils from Parkway Middle School in Haverhill completed a course with Keith Limon of the Suffolk Schools Sports Partnership, which is working in support of younger children.

He was highly impressed with their achievements and presented the certificates at the Year 8 assembly.

Despite the fact middle schools across Suffolk will close next year, Parkway is keen to celebrate the great things its pupils are achieving.

The school has always had successful SATs results and positive assessments from schools partners.

Compound raiders fail to steal truck and trailer

TWO men broke into a compound at Haverhill by removing fencing and attempted to steal an LDV truck, trailer and ride-on lawnmower.

The attempted theft at Homefield Road between 9.15pm and 9.35pm on Sunday was unsuccessful and the pair ran off towards the bypass.

The first man is described as white, in his mid to late 20s and was wearing a dark hooded top with grey and black stripes.

The second man is described as white, in his 20s and was wearing a blue hooded top.

Drink driver, 47, gave up licence

A WOMAN who was almost three times over the drink drive limit when she took to the wheel and clipped another car has been ordered to undergo an alcohol treatment programme.

Margaret Coote, 47, admitted charges of drink driving, driving with no insurance and with no licence when she appeared at Bury St Edmunds magistrates court.

Her case had been adjourned for pre-sentence reports to be prepared and magistrates decided to go along with the document's recommendations to impose a 12 month community order with a supervision requirement. She was also ordered to take part in a driver improvement programme and a six-month alcohol treatment programme.

Nikki Miller, prosecuting, told the court that in January this year another vehicle had to swerve to avoid Coote's vehicle which was in its path and although she clipped the other vehicle the defendant did not stop.

The other driver reported her vehicle number and when stopped, Coote gave a breath test with a recording of 102 milligrams of alcohol.

Coote, of Boyden Close, Wickhambrook, told the court her husband had already paid for the replacement of a wing mirror on the vehicle she hit. She had since surrendered her driving licence and did not drive.

She said: "Now that I am sober I realise that I have done something really wrong. I feel bad about the whole thing."

Colin Humphrey, chairman of the bench, said: "It is to your credit that you surrendered your driving licence after driving that day in an appalling condition."

"This is it, bear in mind that you will have to take certain steps now or we will have to take another course which you will not want at all."

Motor cyclist seriously hurt in collision

A SAFFRON Walden motor cyclist has been seriously injured after being involved in a collision with a car.

Police are appealing for witnesses to the smash which left the 49 year old in a stable condition at Addenbrooke's Hospital.

The collision happened in Streetly End, West Wickham, a few hundred metres south of its junction with High Street, at about 4.45pm on Sunday.

It involved a blue Peugeot 205 being driven by a 19-year-old woman from Haverhill, who also received minor injuries, and the Saffron Walden man's black and blue Yamaha TDM 850 motor bike.

A police spokesman said: "Police would like to speak to anyone who saw the collision or either of the vehicles involved just before."

Anyone with any information is asked to contact the police roads policing unit on 0845 4564564.

Financial help is available to care for babies

HAVERHILL Citizens Advice Bureau this month offers advice on grant funding which can help mums give their babies a good start in life.

Q – I've just found out I'm pregnant. A friend told me I might be entitled to some help towards the costs of the baby. Is this true?

A – If you're having a baby, you may be able to get benefits such as statutory maternity pay or maternity allowance. This will depend on whether you work and, if you do, how much you earn and how long you have worked for the same employer. You can also get a new one-off grant of £190 called a 'health in pregnancy' grant to help you prepare for the birth of your baby. This will not affect your tax credits or any other benefits. Everyone gets the same amount and you will not be asked about your income.

You can get the grant if you're at least 25 weeks pregnant and you've been given health advice from a midwife or doctor. You may not be eligible if you are subject to immigration control or you don't usually live in the UK.

Ask your midwife or doctor for a claim form. Your midwife or doctor must fill in their part of the form and sign it before giving it to you. You then need to get your claim form to HM Revenue and Customs (HMRC) within 31 days of your midwife or doctor signing the form, otherwise you may miss out on the grant.

HMRC will pay the grant directly into your bank or building society account.

For more information about Health in Pregnancy Grants, go to the HMRC website at www.hmrc.gov.uk

If you're pregnant, you may also be entitled to free vitamins and Healthy Start vouchers to help with the cost of milk, fruit and vegetables.

Whether or not you can get this help may depend on your income.

For more information and for contact details of your nearest CAB go to the Citizens Advice website at www.adviceguide.org.uk

Haverhill CAB can be found at the Centre for Voluntary Agencies, in Lower Downs Slade, Haverhill, CB9 9HB.

The bureau is open for anybody to drop in without an appointment between 11am and 4pm on Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays and between 11am and 2pm on Fridays.

For telephone advice phone (01440) 704012 on Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays between 9.30am and 11am and on Wednesday from noon to 4pm.

Staff suggestions make a difference

ORTHOPAEDIC patients at West Suffolk Hospital are set to benefit after their ward's bathrooms were replaced with wet rooms.

The two separate male and female wet rooms, which are modern, easily accessible and can be used by people with any type of disability, have been created on ward F3 at the Bury St Edmunds hospital.

The work has also seen two new toilets installed, with improved access and modern facilities such as sensor taps.

It comes after frontline hospital staff were encouraged to suggest ways in which £100,000 could be spent to improve everyday life at the hospital.

Tracey Oats, matron for surgery, said: "The new wet rooms have been built to an extremely high standard and are easy for everyone to access."

"As well as providing our patients with the best possible facilities, their design makes them easy to clean, which in turn supports our ongoing work to control and prevent infection.

"Feedback from patients so far has been extremely positive – especially from those with mobility problems, who find the wet rooms much easier to use than traditional bathrooms."

"We are delighted that this work took place as a result of a staff suggestion as its already making a real difference."

The new wet rooms were one of a number of projects brought forward as a result of staff suggestions.

In addition to the work on F3, water coolers have been placed in the outpatients department, pathology reception area and on ward F12.

During the coming year, four extra picnic benches will also be added around the site.

Police crackdown catches speeders

MORE than 700 motorists were caught speeding during a week-long campaign in Suffolk.

The campaign, lead by Tispol, the European Traffic Police Network, saw a countywide increase in checks and enforcement as officers clamped down on speeding drivers.

The majority of motorists were given fixed penalty fines and three points on their licences. But others, particularly those with bad driving records, will face court prosecution.

Police officers caught 637 drivers and a further 82 were caught by fixed cameras.

In a similar campaign in April last year, 1,848 motorists were caught speeding. In 2007 the figure was 954.

Despite the drop in the number of those caught, Inspector Alex Morrison, from Suffolk's roads policing unit, said: "We have caught fewer drivers speeding, but I'm still disappointed that so many drivers have failed to listen to our warnings."

"There are still too many drivers who don't seem to realise the impact driving at excessive speeds can have."

"There were 31 people killed on Suffolk's roads last year and the role speed plays in both fatal and serious road traffic collisions cannot be underestimated.

"During this campaign we have tried to educate those who speed through enforcement."

"It is a very simple message but a very important one: speed kills, and by targeting those who are speeding we hope we can save lives."

Get creative with mugs for cancer charity

A CARD shop is encouraging local school children to get creative and design a mug for charity.

Card Factory, in High Street, Haverhill, has launched a competition for primary school children in the area as part of its Match our Million campaign with Macmillan Cancer Support.

Children are invited to create a design for a coffee mug on the theme of 'My Family'.

A panel will select their favourite design which Card Factory will then print onto a limited edition coffee mug, which will be sold in stores nationwide in the run up to Macmillan's World's Biggest Coffee Morning on Friday, September 25. All profits will go towards improving the lives of people affected by cancer.

Entry forms are available in the Card Factory store.

Card Factory is also offering a prize of £1,000 to the winner's school to be spent on arts and crafts materials.

Card Factory has supported Macmillan

Cancer Support for three years, and last year donated £1 million to the charity. This year, the retailer has challenged the public to match that million by donating their spare change in store.

Got to www.cardfactory.eu.com for details.

Fond memories of Maggie inspire marathon dad

Run on: John Vale and partner Jacqueline Delf, along with supporters, at the London Marathon finish line.

BY JO DEEKS
Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A father who lost his daughter to cancer last October has completed his first London Marathon in her memory.

John Vale from Birdbrook, took to the streets of the capital on behalf of CLIC Sargent. The children's cancer charity supported his teenage daughter, Maggie, throughout her 10-month battle with stomach cancer, a disease rarely found in someone her age.

The 50 year-old, who admits he had not run since school, completed the gruelling 26-mile course in around six hours to help raise money for the charity, which he says "helped Maggie live her last year to the full".

The marathon is John's latest fundraising effort for the cause. He took part with partner and family friend, Jacqueline Delf, and together the pair brought the total raised so far in Maggie's memory to almost £6,000. John said: "Maggie was really incredible."

"She never complained throughout her illness and was always smiling. Training for the marathon has been really good for me in that it's given me something positive to concentrate on. Maggie was such a beautiful person and a big part of my life. I miss her so much."

"I chose to support CLIC Sargent because the charity was a fantastic source of support for both Maggie and the rest of the family at the time we needed it most."

"I'd like to thank CLIC Sargent for all their help and the many people who gave so generously."

More than 300 runners took part in the race on behalf of CLIC Sargent this year and helped to raise more than £640,000 for the cause. The money will be used by the charity to help continue to support those families whose lives have been turned upside down by childhood cancer.

Kirsty McLatchie, running events manager for CLIC Sargent, said: "The event was absolutely fantastic. It was incredible to see so many of our runners endure this physically and mentally demanding challenge and still be smiling at the finish. On behalf of CLIC Sargent I would like to say a great big thank you to all our runners who trained and fundraised tirelessly and the staff and volunteers who helped at our cheer points."

"All the money raised will help us continue to support the 10 children and young people diagnosed with cancer every day."

CLIC Sargent will be the official race charity for the London Marathon in 2010 and anyone interested in finding out how to join the CLIC Sargent running team can visit www.cllicsargent.org.uk

Jail for death crash motorist

BY CHRIS HAVERGAL

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A MOTORIST who was driving his Porsche at about 80mph when he killed a woman in a head-on smash has been jailed for three years.

Jane Gatt, who lived in the Haverhill area, died after Rhodie Povey's blue Porsche 944S hit her Citroen Saxo on the A143 at Thurlow on May 5 last year.

She died of her injuries in Addenbrooke's Hospital.

The crash also left Mrs Gatt's sister Margaret Smith, who was in the front passenger seat, with "life-changing" injuries.

Povey, 27, of Stansfield, near Sudbury, admitted causing death by dangerous driving at Ipswich Crown Court. He had previously denied the charge.

The court heard Mrs Gatt was driving at 54mph at the time of the crash and, while Povey's speed before he started to brake could not be ascertained, police said his minimum speed was between 77mph and 81mph.

Speeding: Rhodie Povey lost sight in one eye and hearing in his right ear in the crash which killed Jane Gatt.

Judge David Goodin accepted Povey was genuinely remorseful but said the sole reason for the crash had been his disregard for the safety of others.

As a result of the crash Povey lost sight in his left eye and hearing in his right ear.

He was also disqualified from driving for five years.

Awards to applaud youngsters' efforts

PEDALLING up the road on a high-tech trike, David Poskitt is clearly in his element.

The 13 year old is in training for a sponsored cycle ride and, judging by the grin on his face, he's enjoying every second.

This time last year, David was in hospital. Diagnosed with a rare bone cancer, osteosarcoma, he'd just begun a 30-week stretch of chemo – and was waiting for a leg amputation.

"When I was diagnosed it was devastating, I should say," remembers the Cambridge schoolboy. "I kept worrying things would get worse, which they did: when they told me I needed the amputation I was really, really upset. But then I thought: 'It's going to happen anyway, so why bother getting upset about it? It won't change anything'."

"One thing I've realised is that it's better not to think about things too much. To be honest, I try to make all that as small a part of my life as possible."

David has just been nominated for the 2009 Young People of the Year awards, known as Yopeys for short. Put forward by his fellow cancer patient Liam Fairhurst – himself a past Yohey award winner – he says it's a real accolade.

"He really deserves it," says mum Jacky. "He's done incredibly well. He and Liam met in hospital and just clicked. They have the same sort of drive."

Sponsored by the Cambridge Building Society, the 2009 Yoheys were launched last week. The awards were founded by Royston resident Tony Gearing in a bid, he says, to counter the bad press about young people.

Now held in six counties in England and across the whole of Scotland, the Yoheys are regional awards designed to "reveal, recognise and reward positive role models"; Gordon Brown calls them "a wonderful celebration of Britain's youth".

Since the first Yohey contest in 2005, more than £70,000 has been given out in prize money. This year there is £2,000 to be won by young people in Cambridgeshire.

To qualify, the nominees must give to others, either here or abroad. In David's case, he is giving to other cancer patients: he is doing the sponsored cycle in aid of two charities, CLIC Sargent and Cyclists Fighting Cancer.

David's chemo finally finished in November. By December, his hair was growing back and he felt well enough to do some half-days at school. And then, in time for Christmas, he was fitted with a prosthetic leg. At first, he needed crutches, then sticks. But, within weeks, he was able to walk unaided.

David has physio to help improve his mobility. And, now in remission, he has to return to Addenbrooke's for regular check-ups; he'll need them for the next five years.

Also back at school full-time, David says getting back on a bike has been "a lot of fun". His purpose-built trike was a gift from Cyclists Fighting Cancer – which is why David is fundraising for them.

Jacky and husband Ian have two other sons, Michael, 15, and Thomas, 12. "Michael took David out for a ride at the weekend, which was supposed to be a practice," adds Jacky. "They ended up going all the way from home to Addenbrooke's! But that's David – he just gets on with it."

Do you know a young person who goes that extra mile to help others – and deserves both recognition and the chance to win a cash prize?

Nominees must be aged between 10 and 25, live, study or work in Cambridgeshire and give to others either in this country or abroad.

To nominate, log on to www.yohey.org or write to Young People of the Year, PO Box 103, Hare Street, Ware SG9 0XD, enclosing an SAE for an entry form. Young people can nominate themselves.

ADVERTISING FEATURE

Celebrating: From left are Theresa Steward, Abbie Ellis and Yvette Taylor – all are delighted to have been in Haverhill for three years.

AT arevolution in Haverhill there is a list of therapies to revitalise your whole body.

The popular well being centre is run by owners Theresa Steward and Yvette Taylor, and is celebrating its third year in the town this month.

Once you step into the modern salon, the qualified therapists are on hand to ensure your visit to arevolution is completely relaxing.

Whether you are visiting the salon to indulge in a luxurious head-to-toe massage, try a complementary treatment for the first time or to treat yourself to a perfect manicure or pedicure using professional Jessica nail products, you will receive the same high levels of attention.

Last year arevolution was delighted to be named 'Retailer of the Year' in the Haverhill Chamber of Commerce CB9 Business Awards.

Theresa says: "We are really pleased to be celebrating our third year in Haverhill and would like to say thank you to all our family and friends for their support and, of course, to our customers who return to us time and again."

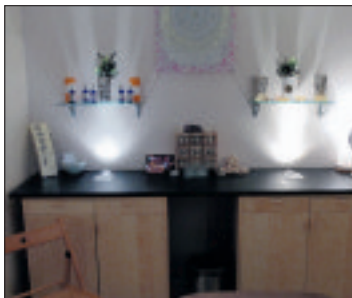

To show their appreciation, arevolution is offering all customers and Weekly News readers a half price treatment at the salon. Simply cut out the voucher on this page or pick one up at the salon to claim your treatment.

Customers can also benefit from discounted treatments on Thursdays and Fridays with beautician Abbie Ellis.

Choose from a list of treatments including manicures, facials, nail extensions, waxing and more.

Arevolution also offers group treatments which can be carried out at your home or at the wellbeing centre. This is a perfect idea for a hen party, birthday or just a pampering get together with friends. The salon also offers a complete wedding beauty package including beauty treatments and make-up to ensure you look fantastic on your special day. Level 1, 2 and 3 training courses in Reiki are also available throughout the year.

For more information about arevolution and its range of treatments and therapies call the salon on (01440) 707614, drop in at 1 Murton Slade, Haverhill or visit www.arevolution.co.uk.

Weld done Daniel!

WELDING apprentice Daniel Chamberlain has won second prize in a competition at West Suffolk College.

Daniel, from Haverhill, was among 18 Level 2 and 3 welding apprentices who took part. Contestants completed two test pieces under the watchful eyes of a panel of three judges.

He will now progress to the regional heats in June, with hopes of going on to the national finals.

Organiser Mike Brett said: "Students showed a wide range of abilities on the day and they were definitely challenged."

"We are grateful to [judges] Eddie and Derek for taking time out of their busy schedules to enrich this event, bringing with them their vast wealth of experience."

"We now look forward to the regionals, with our sights set firmly on a top spot at the nationals."

Will you help hospice raise vital funds?

LOCAL residents are being given the chance to prepare their wills, or revise an existing will, in return for a donation to St Nicholas Hospice Care.

Haverhill-based solicitors Adams Harrison has signed up to the annual Wills Weeks scheme, and are forfeiting the usual fees and giving up their time to support the hospice.

Wills Weeks run across west Suffolk throughout June, with 15 solicitors signed up to take part this year.

Last year, 128 people took advantage of the offer and helped raise more than £13,000.

Margaret Lee, the hospice's legacy officer, said: "We are delighted these local solicitors are giving their time for free to help St Nicholas Hospice Care."

"We sincerely hope that local people take part in the scheme and make an appropriate donation that acknowledges this generous support.

Lesley Hepburn, from Clare, was among those who took advantage of the offer last year.

She said: "I'd been talking about making a will for years, but never got round to it."

"When I saw Wills Week being advertised it seemed such a good idea – it's local and the money is going to a great cause."

"It was all very simple – I'd recommend taking part. I feel happier knowing that everything's sorted should the worst happen, and that I'm helping St Nicholas Hospice Care."

To make an appointment for the week beginning June 8, contact Adams Harrison on (01440) 702485.

YOUR GUIDE TO MOVING HOME

1 Moving home can be a complicated business and, in the hectic run to the big day, it is all too easy to forget something vital. The Property News offers their readers this handy checklist that should help avoid major pitfalls. We suggest you tick off the items as you deal with them...

WITH FOUR WEEKS TO GO:

- ☐ Get estimates from removal companies, checking that comprehensive insurance cover is available against damage or loss. Is there a packing and unpacking service? Confirm the date of your move with the firm you have chosen.
- ☐ Check on your home contents insurance policies to ensure that you are covered for the move, and covered at your new address.
- ☐ Make arrangements for your gas and electricity meters (plus water meters where relevant) to be read and all your appliances to be disconnected on the day of your move.
- ☐ Arrange to take over gas and electricity at your new address, and make sure that all appliances will be properly fitted, plumbed or connected.
- ☐ Notify British Telecom and ask them to make the necessary arrangements for a final account at your present address, and for taking over or installing telephone facilities at your new home.
- ☐ Arrange for change of address cards to be printed.

WITH TWO WEEKS TO GO:

- ☐ Confirm all arrangements, times etc, for meter readings, disconnections and reconnections, with authorities and with your buyer and seller.
- ☐ Make sure you have a good stock of packing materials, including sturdy boxes and plenty of string and sticky tape.
- ☐ Begin to throw out unwanted items from attics, wardrobes. What you really don't want you may as well dump now, or send to charity. It's a great time for a good sort out!

WITH ONE WEEK TO GO:

- ☐ Send off change of address cards.
- ☐ Arrange and pay for automatic redirection of your mail by the Post Office.
- ☐ Cancel and pay up accounts for routine delivery services such as milk, groceries, fuel and your Cambridge Evening News. Re-organise these deliveries for your new address.
- ☐ Defrost refrigerators in preparation for move and, if you are moving a freezer and its contents, turn it up to maximum for a couple of days before you move.

WITH ONE DAY TO GO:

- ☐ Complete your packing except for those items you are likely to need overnight, and prepare a picnic for moving day.
- ☐ Have a large enough cash 'float' available to deal with unexpected expenses, and make sure you have collected documents and valuables together in a safe place.
- ☐ Cover carpets which are being left behind, so as to minimise damage during furniture removal.
- ☐ Check through previous lists to make sure nothing has been overlooked, then enjoy a worry-free early night!

2 ON MOVING DAY:

- ☐ Strip beds and pack bedding and nightclothes.
- ☐ Pack items for washing/toiletries.
- ☐ Take down curtains.
- ☐ Take up rugs, carpets, floor coverings, as required.
- ☐ Dismantle any light fittings etc., not included in the sale.
- ☐ Turn off electric appliances.
- ☐ Disconnect cooker.
- ☐ Turn off boiler/central heating.
- ☐ Turn off water.
- ☐ Read gas meter.
- ☐ Read electricity meter.
- ☐ Secure all windows.
- ☐ Lock all doors.
- ☐ Leave key as arranged with new owners.
- ☐ On arrival at your new home, unpack slowly and methodically so that you can check for loss or damage.

3 EXTRA HINTS FOR A SMOOTH MOVE...

Unlocked vehicles are 'gift to thieves'

CARELESS motorists have been warned to take precautions after police revealed nearly a quarter of all the vehicles stolen in the west Suffolk area in the past two months were left unlocked.

Thieves stole, or tried to steal, 224 vehicles across the area, which includes Haverhill, Newmarket and Mildenhall.

Police said 53 needed no effort to get into because the windows, doors and boots were left unlocked.

Superintendent David Skevington said: "An unlocked vehicle is a gift to the opportunist thief, who can just open a door or boot or reach through a window to commit crime."

"Items such as satnavs, bags and stereos have all been stolen because the owner has either forgotten to lock their car or simply thinks that they won't be targeted.

"Where there has been a spate of vehicle crime in west Suffolk, officers are carrying out additional patrols to gather information, provide reassurance and deter thieves from committing further offences.

"But simply taking a minute to remove valuables from your vehicle and lock it could stop you becoming a victim of crime."

He appealed to anyone seeing any suspicious activity near parked vehicles to call police immediately.

He also asked for the public to tell police if they were approached by someone selling satellite navigation or stereo equipment in suspicious circumstances.

Hospital rapped over loss of data

First stop, a healthier lifestyle

HAVERHILL students were given tips on leading a healthier life when a bus rolled into town.

Samuel Ward Arts and Technology College students climbed aboard the Healthy Ambitions Bus last week.

The Suffolk NHS and Suffolk County Council initiative aims to further educate students about the importance of a healthy lifestyles, using a range of on-board activities, including trying free smoothies.

Specialist software also allowed students to come face-to-face with themselves 30 years on, depending upon anticipated lifestyles.

OHelen Jones, assistant headteacher, said: "This was a novel approach for pupils to learn about the effects of unhealthy lifestyles, and supporting the work we do in school."

ADDENBROOKE'S has been ordered to tighten security on personal data after a member of staff lost a memory stick containing the medical details of 741 patients.

The Cambridge hospital is one of four NHS trusts found to be in breach of the Data Protection Act in a ruling by the Information Commissioner's Office (ICO) today.

The unencrypted memory stick containing "medical treatment details" of 741 patients was found by a car wash attendant after an Addenbrooke's member of staff "left it in an unattended vehicle", the watchdog revealed.

The attendant "was able to access the contents to establish ownership". The information was downloaded without the permission of Addenbrooke's and the trust reported the loss, the ICO said.

Mick Gorrill, assistant information commissioner at the ICO, warned that NHS trusts which lose personal data "risk losing the confidence of patients and their families".

The incident is the third high-profile data loss incident at Addenbrooke's in recent months.

In April 2008, a female member of staff lost printed information on types of medical tests to be undertaken by 1,252 patients, along with their NHS numbers, while she was travelling on public transport.

In November 2008, Haverhill resident Nicola Marsh received letters containing medical records of two other patients from Addenbrooke's.

The ICO has ordered Addenbrooke's to sign a formal undertaking that it will process information in line with the Data Protection Act, with immediate effect.

Addenbrooke's did not state when the incident took place.

A hospital spokesman said the memory stick was only viewed by the car wash attendant before being returned immediately, and "patient confidentiality was not compromised".

Bid to end mixed-sex problems

MORE than £10 million will be spent on eliminating mixed-sex accommodation in hospitals in the East of England, the Government has said.

More than half of the projects in hospitals and mental health facilities relate to the provision or refurbishment of bathrooms and toilets. But other schemes include creating new wards, partitioning day rooms to prevent them overlooking sleeping areas, and creating female-only lounges.

New screens, partitions and signage will be funded by the £10.3 million cash boost, announced this week by Alan Johnson, the Health Secretary.

Mr Johnson said: "We have made great progress, however our message is clear – over the coming months we only expect to see mixed-sex accommodation where it is clinically justified and from next year those trusts who fail in this duty will be financially penalised."

"It is simply unacceptable for top quality treatment by our finest surgeons, doctors and nurses to be undermined by a sub-standard mixed-sex environment that patients find unsettling, uncomfortable and undignified."

Pupils take tour of Ethiopia through teachers' eyes

PUPILS got a taste of life in Ethiopia without leaving their school when former teachers paid a visit.

Year 5 and 6 pupils at Parkway Middle School in Haverhill were treated to a virtual experience of Ethiopia when two former teachers at the school, Rob Guyton and Judi

Walton, shared their experiences of two years working in the country.

Children discovered what it would be like to live in a small hut, shared with cows and goats, carry heavy containers of water, greet people and learn in an Ethiopian school.

Colourful photographs and costumes also proved a big hit. The visitors congratulated the children on their excellent behaviour and thoughtful questioning.

The visit coincided with the pupils' work the Big Read campaign. World leaders have promised to ensure at least primary education for all children in the world by 2015. Currently, 75 million children, and 774 million adults throughout the world are unable to read or write, leading to continuing poverty.

Avril Dawson, one of the Parkway teachers leading the work, said: "Our students have been learning about the causes and effects of this before presenting their work and writing to Prime Minister Gordon Brown to urge him to continue to work towards keeping this promise.

"We look forward to his continuing support."

New era of hope for IVF treatment

IVF has brought joy to people who thought they could never have children – but the high cost of the treatment has led to frustration and misery for others.

Under new rules introduced today, couples in the East trying for a child are entitled to up to three cycles of NHS-funded IVF treatment.

That will be a big boost to couples in the area, who were previously entitled to just one cycle. Unsuccessful couples going on to fund themselves face costs of between £4,000 and £8,000 per cycle.

The East is the first region in England to introduce the three-cycle rule, implementing recommendations by the National Institute for Health and Clinical Excellence in 2004.

With technology to freeze eggs, three cycles can include up to six embryo implantations.

The change has been welcomed by Bourn Hall, the Cambridgeshire clinic set up by IVF pioneers Patrick Steptoe and Robert Edwards.

Another warm welcome to the extra help came from Stella Hensley, a mother from Offord Cluny who had twins Daisy and Lulu after going through seven years of IVF.

Stella and husband Trevor spent about £18,000 on five cycles of treatment.

She said of the new rules: "It's fantastic. I think it is around one in three people who struggle to have children. It is a basic need.

"To be able to have the chance, that is fantastic. It's the best thing ever."

Stella is full of joy when she talks about Daisy and Lulu, who are now 3.

But the huge expense of IVF nearly led to the abandonment of Stella's crucial fifth cycle. When the cycle failed to produce enough eggs, she had to ask her mother for £800 to fund extra drugs.

Stella has since met women whose attempts to have a child were cut short by the high cost of IVF. She said: "You shouldn't be worrying about money if you are trying to make a life."

The new rules were introduced by the East of England Strategic Health Authority in a bid to end the "postcode lottery" that saw couples in the region eligible for one or two cycles, depending on where they lived.

East of England patients will have a choice of five fertility centres – Bourn Hall Clinic, Barts and the London Centre for Reproductive Medicine, IVF Hammersmith, Leicester Fertility Centre and Oxford Fertility Unit.

Mike Macnamee, chief executive of Bourn Hall Clinic, which caters for both NHS and self-funded couples, backed the move.

Couples in the East of England desperate to have a baby are now entitled to more cycles of fertility treatment on the NHS, thanks to a groundbreaking initiative. Health correspondent JOHN MORGAN reports.

New lives: Trevor and Stella Hensley with daughters Lulu and Daisy celebrating their first birthday in 2006, above. Left, as they are now.

He said: "It was always the dream of Steptoe and Edwards, when they established Bourn Hall as the world's first IVF clinic, that treatment would be available to all who needed it.

"We are delighted that the East of England is taking a lead in making IVF more widely accessible and creating a clearer and more consistent treatment pathway across the primary care trusts (PCTs)."

In IVF, the first cycle stimulates the woman to produce eggs which are removed and fertilised using the sperm of the partner, or donor if necessary. If an embryo results, this is then transferred back to the woman's womb.

To qualify for NHS treatment in the East, couples must meet specific criteria. Women must be aged between 23 and 39, with no children from their current relationship. They must also be registered with a GP in one of the six counties in the East of England.

Establishing and implementing the new policy in the region has been the work of the East of England Specialised Commissioning Group, which commissions specialised fertility services on behalf of the 14 PCTs in the East.

Trevor Myers, director of the group, said: "This new policy is the result of an extremely successful collaboration of clinical experts, patients and NHS managers that will ensure a much fairer approach across the region. We are very grateful for the help of Infertility Network UK, which has represented patients in this work."

Multicultural melting pot: from Polish Pogues to African beats

FROM Congolese rumba orchestras to displays of Chinese fan dancing, Cambridge is embracing all things multi-cultural for its annual Heart Of The Word Festival this month.

Now in its fourth year, the festival's month-long programme of events includes live music, club nights, film screenings, workshops, exhibitions and outdoor celebrations, all featuring both local and international participants, and all celebrating global diversity.

"It's such a great festival because it brings everyone together," says event manager Frances Alderton. "This year there's a much wider programme as we've extended it from two weeks to four, and all the top venues are taking part, including the Corn Exchange, The Junction, The Arts Picturehouse, and a lot of pubs and smaller venues, which is great."

"It's a fantastic opportunity to see artists that you wouldn't necessarily see, and there really is something for everybody – all age groups, all tastes. It'll be a great atmosphere, so come along and sample something different."

Here's our guide to the festival highlights:

■ City Celebrations

A free "taster day" for the whole festival, events will feature local and international artists, workshops, stalls and family activities. The celebrations will take place between 11am and 5pm on Christ's Pieces and Parker's Piece on Saturday.

■ The Buskers and Street Performers' Festival

A variety of buskers including musical

Feast of sound: the Warsaw Village Band are among the acts playing this month's Heart Of The World festival in Cambridge.

groups, solo guitarists, dance acts, African drummers and comedy magicians will be performing throughout the city centre between 11am and 5pm from today to Saturday.

■ Warsaw Village Band, Wednesday at 7.30pm, Cambridge Corn Exchange. Tickets £13.50 from www.cornex.co.uk / (01223) 357851.

Dubbed "The Polish Pogues", the band play an eclectic mix of roots, folk, world and ethno.

■ Mose Fanfan, Friday from 7pm, St Paul's Centre, Hills Road. Tickets £10 to £20 from (01223) 511511.

Mose Fanfan will be leading a nine-piece rumba dance orchestra to celebrate 60 years of Congolese rhythm. The evening will begin with a dance class at 7pm, and will follow with music from at 9pm.

■ Daphna Sadeh & The Voyagers, Saturday at 8pm, The Junction. Tickets £11 in advance from www.junction.co.uk / (01223) 511511.

Headed by composer and double bass player Daphna Sadeh, The Voyagers produce world music in its truest sense by combining Eastern European, Jewish and Middle Eastern sounds.

Acoustic duo

ACOUSTIC duo Dave Ellis and Boo Howard will play Cambridge's CB2 Bistro on Saturday night. The folk couple have been performing together for 30 years since meeting in 1979. Dave is known for his unique guitar style and Boo for her exceptional voice. Local musician Alex Highton will be making a return visit to the restaurant and café to provide the support act for the main event. Describing himself as a wannabe Harry Nilsson' his last performance was well received at the last acoustic night. The gig starts at 8.30pm and entry costs £5 on the door at the Norfolk Street venue.

Eastern sounds

A FREE music event will be held at Kettle's Yard in Cambridge this Sunday. Lecturers and students from Anglia Ruskin University will join special guests to perform One Hundred and Twenty-seven Haiku. The concert will combine music and art with computer technology to generate new sounds alongside acoustic instruments. Japanese Haiku poetry's brevity with a strict, formal structure will be the starting point for the music in this production, which begins at noon at the Castle Street venue.

Dixieland jazz

NEW Orleans will visit The Ranch tonight with the Freddie and Friends Jazz Quartet. The band will be performing traditional New Orleans and Dixieland Jazz at Cambridge's newest restaurant from 8.30pm – 11pm. They include Andy Moran on cornet, Roger Bacon on clarinet, Jim Hawthorn on string bass and Freddie Whipp on banjo. Admission is free. To book a table call (01223) 322722.

Northern punks

AFTER releasing their third album this week, Sonic Boom Six are on their UK tour and will be performing at the Man on the Moon on Tuesday night. The Manchester punk band will be showcasing tracks from the new album, City of Thieves, in the gig which starts at 8pm. Tickets cost £8 on the door or in advance from The Junction box office on (01223) 511511.

Whodunnit departs from hand of Christie

Hooded figure: the Domino Man terrifies the cast of Dead Man's Hand. CP

A CLASSIC Agatha Christie-style whodunnit is the latest production by Centre Stage Company later this month. Dead Man's Hand by Seymour Matthews is a captivating thriller, which at first appears to follow a typical Agatha Christie formula with two couples lured to a remote Italian villa to be murdered one by one. But is this play all it seems? Shortly after two of the characters have been murdered twists and turns begin to tease the audience. Who is the murderer and what do those killed have in common? And who is the mysterious Domino Man? An intriguing final twist unravels the reason for the events.

The cast includes Denise Clayden, Mark Hickford, Ian Davison, Lorraine Mason, David Hart and Jan Davidson, with Pam Lawrence the director.

The show runs at the Haverhill Arts Centre on May 14-16, at 7.30pm.

Queen of cabaret puts on the gloss

THERE aren't many award-winning architects who'd give up a high-profile career to risk it all as a cabaret singer, but since donning the red lipstick six years ago, Camille O'Sullivan hasn't looked back. Now hailed as the "queen of contemporary cabaret", the Irish chanteuse, who was nominated for Best Female Vocalist at the Irish Music Awards this year, is about to embark on a UK tour with her new show, The Dark Angel – and plays The Junction in Cambridge next Wednesday. With her deep, sultry voice, Camille is best known for her distinctive style of performing "song stories", dramatic interpretations of the works of musicians ranging from Kurt Weill and Jacques Brel to David Bowie and Tom Waits, in which she acts out the roles of the characters in the lyrics. This unique method, once described as "part West End show, part comedy sketch, part glamorous burlesque act" has become something of a legend, and her shows are always packed. Recent performances in Edinburgh and London, as well as tours of Australia and New Zealand earlier this year, have been sell-outs. But it almost didn't happen at all. The daughter of an Irish racing driver and a French mother, Camille was brought up in Ireland and studied architecture at University College, Dublin, winning a first class degree with the college's highest mark for 10 years. She went on to win the Architectural Association of Ireland Award in 2000, but, while working in Berlin, became hooked on the city's cabaret clubs and yearned to do it professionally. A near-fatal road accident decided it: hospitalised for a year, Camille gave up architecture to dedicate herself to cabaret. Since taking that decision, she has built herself an international reputation, and has appeared on BBC TV's Later With Jools Holland to great acclaim. She's also carving herself a niche in the acting world, having been in the films Over the Edge, November Afternoon and the Oscar-nominated Mrs Henderson Presents, as well as theatrical productions of One Night Stand, Tonight Lola Blau and Stephen Sondheim's Sweeney Todd. But it's in cabaret that Camille's heart truly lies: "Cabaret has naff connotations," she once said. "People think it's all bowler hats, fishnets, corsets and sexy singing, just a form of sexual light entertainment. It is much more serious than that. The cabaret artists I like take risks they don't want just to please the audience with pretty songs from the past. Wedding bands can do that." ■ Camille plays The Junction on Wednesday, May 13 at 8pm. Tickets cost £17.50 in advance from www.junction.co.uk or (01223) 511511.

Give gardens a new look with right pots

If you've lost lots of your old terracotta pots to the frost this winter, it may be time to perk up your patio with some new containers.

However, think carefully before buying and consider the style of your property and garden. If you don't, you could end up with a disastrous mish-mash of colours and designs.

If you have an old, traditional house and matching garden, it makes sense to stick with classic materials such as stone or terracotta, while a modern setting may require stainless steel, coloured concrete, zinc or aluminium.

Dramatic black glazed pots, with stand-alone specimens such as a cordyline or date palm, can look stunning in a contemporary setting and are widely available, while troughs and pots made of metal can also look good in minimalist gardens.

You can get away with a variety of brightly coloured glazed pots (check out B&Q's range of rainbow glazed pots, starting at £1.98 - www.diy.com) in a modern setting to brighten up a corner, but generally it's better to stick to one style and finish if you don't want the patio to look messy.

Don't buy pots on a whim, as there simply may not be a natural place to put them. You may actually find they look better without any plants in them.

Small gardens don't restrict you to small pots. In fact, large pots and plants in a small garden will create much more drama and

by Hannah Stephenson

impact than having everything below eye level.

There are pros and cons with whatever you choose. Terracotta pots, even if they are frost-proof, have a tendency to crack and chip and are porous, which means you will need to water the plants regularly to stop them drying out.

However, terracotta pots can achieve that weathered look quickly because algae and moss soon grow on the outer surface.

Glazed ceramic containers come in a huge range of colours and are not porous, so you'll need to stand them on pot feet to ensure adequate drainage.

Galvanised metal containers, which look great in modern settings, are poor insulators, so compost and roots may be baked in hot weather and frozen in winter. This is where glass fibre pots, which look like metal, may be a better bet.

Wooden troughs and tubs are widely available (for best value look at the Argos wooden trough planter for £12.99) and have a natural look, which enables them to blend into most informal garden schemes. They are of moderate durability and do better if you line them with a thick plastic sheet such as a pond liner, puncturing it to allow for drainage.

Alternatively, treat the container with a preservative that doesn't harm plants and stand the tub on bricks or feet to help drainage.

Wood is also frost-resistant and insulates plants from extreme heat and cold.

If you have trouble lifting heavy pots and are on a tight budget, plastic is the obvious choice. Sankey's Verona pot range comes in royal blue and wine red (available in two sizes, from £16.99, call (01159) 277335 or visit www.rsankey.com) and has a five-year UV resistant guarantee.

However, a more stylish choice can be found in a range of other materials including fibreglass and resin, which aren't too heavy but can create a stunning look.

Contemporary square top plant pots are available in a variety of colours and, being made from resin, they are lightweight, weather resistant and shatterproof (www.greenfingers.com, £14.99, 0845 345 0728).

If blue is your colour, look out for a bell jar (from £129.99 at www.crocus.co.uk) designed by Brighton sculptor Bill Harling, which looks like weather-beaten copper but is made from fibre glass and resin. It's also frost-proof. For a contemporary square top faux aluminium Geo round pot (£69.99 from www.crocus.co.uk) may also do the trick.

Consider where you are going to put your pots before you choose the containers.

Plastic is light, easy to move and can be easily disguised with metallic paint or hidden by trailing plants.

Wood, terracotta and stone are good root insulators and so are perfect for plantings in full sun or exposed settings. Metal doesn't do so well in sunny spots as it will quickly heat up the compost and roots inside, although you can put the plant in a different smaller container and plunge this into your metal pot lined with damp compost to help protect it.

BEST OF THE BUNCH

— Tulip

There are so many different varieties of tulip in a myriad of colours, from whites and yellows to orange, red and deep purple – no garden should be without them.

If you like fussy and frilly, go for the parrot types, while the classic single, large, strong-stemmed varieties are dominated by the Darwin hybrids. I love the dwarf types such as Red Riding Hood, a Greigii hybrid with striped green and purple leaves, and the single late variety Queen of Night, which produces deep maroon blooms in late spring.

Tulips need well-drained, fertile soil in a sunny site. Bulbs should be planted 10-15cm (4-6in) deep in late autumn and protected from excessive wet. Most should be lifted when the foliage has died after flowering, although some, such as Kaufmanniana and its hybrids can be left in the ground for several years to flower again.

Extended, versatile bungalow

THIS extended bungalow is in Shannon Close, Haverhill.

It is on the market for £189,000. The accommodation consists of an entrance hall, living room, kitchen/dining room, two conservatories, a games room, master bedroom with en suite, two further bedrooms and a family bathroom.

Outside, there is a front garden and a drive provides space for parking. At the rear of the property lies a further garden which is laid mainly to lawn.

It also incorporates a patio and decking area. This property also offers the possibility for a separate annexe. Call Bychoice on (01440) 768919 for more details.

Great news for Your Move as market heads in right direction

YOUR Move in Haverhill is pleased to report that the local market is still moving well through the spring months.

However, new houses coming on to the market are essential to keep this momentum going.

Branch manager Darren Baugh comments: "We are really pleased to see the market continue to perform well and we are now entering the busiest time of year for general activity. With Easter over and the nights lighter for longer, buyers will be motivated to find a house over the coming weeks. Therefore it is vital that, if you are looking to move in 2009, you time your house coming to the market wisely."

He adds: "This is even more imperative bearing in mind the delay the recent change to the HIPs legislation will cause as it is now the case of having a physical copy of the HIP before any marketing can commence."

Individuals who have the desire and ability to move, and can obtain the required finance, are being advised that now is as good a time as ever to proceed.

Darren continues: "Although across the marketplace there is less on the market at the moment, there are still some great deals to be had on your onward purchase."

"We are seeing great demand for first-time buyer homes, modern townhouses and larger family homes located in Haverhill and the villages and we need these to come to the market now while activity is good."

"Your Move is happy to provide a free, no obligation appraisal and bring anyone interested in moving up-to-date with the current picture."

"With the marker prices having contracted by 15-20 per cent across the board, you may well be surprised at what your budget will allow you to buy," says Darren. "We also are seeing signs that price falls have slowed and may be bottoming out."

He concludes: "I am also very encouraged by the performance of my team here. We have seen properties selling for a very high percentage of their asking prices. Of these we have also seen some very quick turnarounds, with a house in Boyton Close being under offer after only seven days of being on the market."

"Overall, we are currently seeing more viewings, more sales, more activity and more confidence. We need more good houses on our register to allow this momentum to continue."

Contact Your Move for further details on (01440) 707222 and ask to speak to Darren Baugh, your local Your Move expert.

Why sell the traditional way?

Get Estate Agents to value it and put it on the market.

Show people around the property (mostly "nosy parkers" & sightseers).

If no offers received after 2 or 3 months, reduce price.

Show more people around.

Eventually accept an offer at between 5 & 10% off the advertised price.

Hope the sale doesn't fall through (over 30% of sales don't reach completion).

Once price agreed, wait a further 3 months for sale to complete.

Work out how many £000s it has cost you in reducing the price, making mortgage payments, paying Estate Agents fees and legal fees since you started the process (on average, 7 months ago...)

Sell your property the CXG way...

The simple alternative

- Pay no Estate Agent's fees
- Pay no Legal fees
- No further mortgage payments

308 CC folding roof delight

THE 308 is a pretty appealing car from all angles, writes Iain Dooley.

Key to this is its streamlined profile. Lord only knows how the engineers and designers did it, but they've managed to accommodate the complexities of the folding roof and give the car an elegant stance. The 308 CC looks especially good from the rear – something that's hard to do at the best of times.

There are no surprises inside the 308 CC, although this is not a bad thing. Just like the hatch it's based on, the CC cabin looks like a quality item from a sector above its price. Cast your eye around this 308's interior and the build quality is nothing short of impressive. The same is true of the overall design and ambience. Sure, it's pretty much the same as a high-end 308 hatch but, somehow, it gains something extra in the transition from five-door to drop-top.

Peugeot appears particularly bullish when asked about the 308 CC. Granted, there's a reputation to uphold, although the success of its predecessors is no accident: an attractive product, something that's good value and practical.

That last part is important; the concept of a folding metal roof is now a widely accepted one, yet it's only when experienced first hand do you fully appreciate its all-weather robustness. It'll keep the bad weather and the vandals out and puts the coupe into coupe cabriolet. Best of all, it can be retraced electrically while creeping along in traffic in around 20 seconds. Wind noise at speed is pleasingly low, which is all that matters. Like when with the roof up, the car behaves in a smooth, refined manner. The added bonus being that it – and you – look pretty darn stylish.

For all the stylish overtones, can Peugeot's 308 CC walk the walk? Fortunately it can, which should please fans of the marque. Don't expect a honed, sports car-like experience, though. The 308, like many rivals, isn't tuned to deliver performance thrills. Think of it more like an affordable drop-top GT and you'll be closer to its core character.

Save for the poorest condition roads, the 308 CC copes admirably with rough surfaces. The sophisticated and supple ride is most noticeable when travelling at speed and, despite its GT-esque character, isn't adverse to being driven in spirited fashion on your local B-road.

It helps to have a few good engines to choose from, and Peugeot's mix of petrol and diesel units should keep most people happy. Most should be familiar to anyone on nodding terms with the 308 hatch. The 308 CC is a substantial car, so you'll be wanting one of the more powerful offerings if you want to make life easy.

If diesel isn't your thing, the 143bhp turbo 1.6-litre petrol motor is especially nice. Smooth, quiet and responsive, it's everything an engine for a convertible should be. Add an auto gearbox and you're all set for a leisurely weekend drive. The diesel choices might save a few pennies at the pump, but cars like the 308 CC are always purchases driven by the heart, not the head.

Factor in a generous amount of standard kit plus a wealth of tempting optional extras – neck-level heating elements, anyone? – and it's hard not to like the 308 CC.

Basically

This drop-top 308 proves that Peugeot still knows what it takes to produce an attractive, practical and affordable convertible for the masses.

Car makers accept scrappage scheme

MOTOR industry leaders have met with the Government to discuss arrangements for the car scrappage scheme being launched next month in a bid to boost sales.

Business Secretary Lord Mandelson said he wanted the £300-million scheme to be as simple as possible with the minimum number of restrictions for consumers who will be offered a £2,000 incentive to scrap their cars and vans 10 or more years old in return for a new vehicle.

"We want to keep the scheme straightforward for the car industry and there will be checks in place to make sure it is not abused.

"I welcome the level of interest from car manufacturers that have already said they are keen to sign up to the voluntary scheme and look forward to seeing them benefit from more new buyers very soon," said the minister.

The incentive, being launched in mid-May, consists of £1,000 of Government funding matched by a similar amount by the industry.

Manufacturers who have already accepted their involvement in the scrappage scheme include Mercedes, Hyundai, Volvo, Nissan, Skoda, Toyota, BMW and Ford.

Robert Hazelwood, Skoda UK brand director, said: "Anything that stimulates consumer demand for new car sales is positive. We look forward to understanding the detail from the government as soon as possible. Overall, it's a great deal for customers – helping more people to get into modern cars that are safer, greener and more economical to run. Skoda has the ideal range of cars to meet customers' needs."

Hyundai's MD Tony Whitehorn said: "Although we had hoped for a £2,000 contribution from the Government, £1,000 will help drive business through our doors at this time of recession. We will strive to match this price or an even higher price once the details have been confirmed. There are around 10 million cars in the UK which will be eligible for scrappage. It's a huge opportunity for drivers to upgrade to a safer, cleaner and more reliable car. We expect a huge increase in demand as people realise they can afford a new Hyundai."

Kevin Driscoll, general sales manager at EMG Kia, said: "At EMG Kia we are fully committed to giving budget-conscious motorists from Cambridge the chance to enjoy the best technology for the lowest possible price. We know our products have great appeal thanks to efficient and economical engines and our collection of unbeatable warranties.

"A Kia cee'd, complete with seven year bumper-to-bumper warranty and five-star EuroNCAP safety rating bought under the scrappage scheme, is just £7,995. That's a package no one in the UK motor industry can match. Even our fresh and stylish Kia Soul, just launched in March, can be bought for just £8,495, complete with a five-year warranty under the scrappage incentive," he added.

The Citroën C1 ev'ie: Now on sale in the UK priced at £16,850.

Four-seat electric C1 ev'ie is a first

THE UK's first four-seater electric car, with a range of 60-70 miles, was launched last week.

But the 60mph vehicle, called the Citroën C1 ev'ie, will set purchasers back £16,850.

Made in Bedfordshire by the Electric Car Corporation (ECC), the car is based on the Citroën C1 and is available now.

The C1 ev'ie can be fully charged in 6-7 hours from a domestic 13-amp socket at a cost of around 90p, with ECC saying that it will make an ideal city car for either professional or domestic use.

The company aims to produce 500 C1 ev'ies over the next year, rising to between 2,000 and 4,000 units in 2010, depending on demand and Government support.

Citroën UK managing director Xavier Duchemin said: "We are committed to providing greener alternatives for motorists and are delighted to be supplying ECC with C1s for this exciting project."

ECC chief executive David Martell said: "We believe this is the first serious alternative to a petrol or diesel car. It drives just like a petrol car and has excellent capacity for use in any town or city in the UK.

"The key to building a successful electric car is an efficient battery management system. ECC has developed an advanced and sophisticated system which, when coupled with regenerative braking, can provide the driver with much greater range and better performance."

ECC is on 0207 402 4334 or at www.theelectriccarcorporation.co.uk.

Scrappage: It's looking like a good deal.

He wouldn't have qualified for a Swift insurance deal

ROCK star Iggy Pop's advertisement for car insurance breached the rules because musicians were not covered by the policy, according to an advertising watchdog ruling.

At the time the advert was shown, Swiftcover excluded people working in the entertainment industry from taking out its car insurance.

But during the television clip Iggy Pop leaps around the screen declaring: "I got it Swiftcovered. I got insurance on my insurance!"

The Advertising Standards Agency received 12 complaints from viewers who said it was misleading to suggest that Iggy Pop had insurance with Swiftcover.

The advertisers said they had selected Iggy Pop because of his reputation for living life to the full and not his occupation. They added that Iggy Pop did not state in the advert that he had a Swift policy.

But the ASA upheld the complaint saying that Iggy Pop's words in the advert could be interpreted to mean he did hold a policy.

It ruled that the advert must not be broadcast again in its current form. Swiftcover has since made insurance available to musicians for the first time.

Is a hot hatch summer due?

THE heat's on – and not just from the upturn in weather.

Hot hatchbacks will be setting a scorching pace on Britain's streets this summer, and it's a fair bet that several manufacturers will be strengthening their sporting DNA with fast wheels of modest size.

Seat certainly will be, with hot hatches the Leon Cupra and Ibiza FR, two new models that make their public debuts at the Barcelona Motor Show on May 9.

The Leon Cupra will enjoy the best of the British sunshine by arriving here in July. The Ibiza FR goes on sale in September.

The Seat Ibiza FR: Barcelona debut is on Saturday.

The Cupra's genes form some of the hottest in the sporty Spanish marque's own DNA, and the latest Leon will sit above the £18,000 FR model in the Leon line-up.

The Cupra gets a bolder face – more striking front air vents beneath the central grille, and the model's name emblazoned across the centre of the hatch door.

Unique 18-inch alloy wheels and gloss black door mirror housings also come with the fastest Leon. The cabin fixtures and fittings are predominantly black, with bucket front seats, aluminium colour inserts and aluminium pedals underscoring the racy interior design theme.

The new Leon Cupra is powered by a 2.0-litre, 236bhp petrol engine, giving it a top speed of 153mph and a 0-62mph sprint time of just 6.4 seconds. Average fuel consumption runs out at 34mpg.

Standard Cupra equipment includes an electronic system, which mimics the function of a mechanical limited slip differential, full anti-lock, electronically-assisted braking, a low tyre-pressure warning system, full airbag roster, climate control, cornering foglights, trip computer, cruise control and specially-tuned suspension.

The Ibiza, a new FR hot hatch, gets a state-of-the-art 1.4-litre, 147bhp petrol engine fitted with both a supercharger and a turbocharger – a first in the supermini class.

Seat isn't giving away any figures just yet, but promises punchy performance and lower consumption figures and emissions levels.

It also shares the Leon's "electronic differential" underpinnings, but has its own styling touches that are quite different to other Ibizas.

The FR – for Formula Racing – logo can be seen throughout the new Ibiza. Its cabin upholstery, while not as dynamically-defined as the Leon's, gets a strong sporty look.

The standard equipment list on the Ibiza FR is also a strong one, and includes electronic stability, hill hold control, low tyre-pressure warning, driver and passenger airbags, head-chest airbag, trip computer, cruise control, climate control, sports suspension, and also those cornering foglights.

Expect prices of the new Seat flagships to remain fairly close to the current range maximums, which is, as stated earlier, £18k for the Leon, and £12k in the Ibiza's case.

Helping hand: ContiComfortKit means you needn't worry about getting into serious difficulties if a puncture takes place.

Back on the road in 7 minutes

IT'S May Day bank holiday and you've set off in the car for a day out. With smiles all round, the last thing you want to happen is a punctured tyre which leaves you changing a wheel or waiting for the rescue service.

Well now there's a fast'n'easy solution which can get you back on the road in just seven minutes.

Tyre manufacturer Continental has created the ContiComfortKit – a compact, portable compressor device which connects to a vehicle's cigarette lighter. The new technology works by filling the tyre with a mixture of liquid sealant and air, temporarily repairing the puncture and enabling you to drive to a garage for your tyre to be repaired by professionals so that you can resume your journey.

The ContiComfortKit allows you to drive at up to 50mph for another 125 miles. In-built illumination makes the kit easy to use at night.

The ContiComfortKit retails at £59.99. Once used, a replacement tube and sealant can be bought for £14.99. Find your local retailer at www.conticomfortkit.co.uk.

GIVE YOUR CAR A WINTER WORKOUT WITH THE RMIF

The onset of winter can be bad news for motorists. Little light, bad weather and worse roads conspire to make driving tiring, unpleasant, and sometimes even dangerous.

Every journey is an opportunity to prevent the worst from happening, and there is a great deal of preventative action that you can undertake yourself.

Before setting off:
make sure that the car has enough fuel let someone know your intended movements listen to traffic news and weather forecasts, and wear warm clothing.

Naturally, the need for seasonal preparation also extends to the various systems that run the car, so make sure that the anti-freeze in the car is fresh. Insufficient or 'old' anti-freeze can cause hose, water pump or other major units to fail leading to overheating. Anti-freeze should be changed every two years due to the deterioration of the corrosion inhibitors, or according to manufacturer recommendations.

Other things to do include:
make sure the battery is in good condition on cold mornings use a de-icer on windows, or a scraper - NEVER hot water check that the screen wash is not clogged and that the bottle is topped up for use, and make sure that an additive is used to stop it freezing check windscreen wipers for wear and replace them if necessary make sure that all heaters and ventilation systems are working so that misting is minimised give all external lights and mirrors a thorough clean headlamps should be correctly aligned the tread depth should be at least 1.6mm across the central three-quarters of the breadth of the tread and around the entire circumference, and there should be no cuts or cracks spray damp inhibitor into the door locks to prevent seizing up.

Once the car is ready for winter, you should make sure it is carrying emergency equipment so that, if the worst happens, you are ready too.

Useful supplies could include: torch, spare batteries and bulbs, screen scraper / de-icer, jump leads, warning triangle, first-aid kit, 'hands free' mobile phone / phone card / cash, blankets and warm jacket / robust shoes (in case of breakdown), shovel (to clear snow if necessary), fire extinguisher, rope (for towing if necessary), road atlas, maps etc.

Essentially, safety in the winter comes down to four things: 1. Check your car. 2. Be prepared for anything. 3. Be cautious. 4. Monitor your speed.

If you try to follow these rules you should find yourself on the road to safe winter driving. To make sure your car is ready for the road in the first place, book your car in for a service. Careful preparation by the motorist can only go so far.

To find a reliable garage, motorists should look to the RMIF

A member will be able to advise you on the type of service you need, and will be able to point out potential problem areas before they arise, or become serious. In fact, whether you want to buy or sell a new or used car or motorcycle, service or repair your existing vehicle, find an auction house, or a cherished number plate dealer, the RMIF will be able to help you.

If you have a complaint against an RMIF member garage, the RMIF's National Conciliation Service should be able to help you get redress, if the problem cannot be solved in direct consultation with that member.

To find a garage that is a member of the RMIF visit www.rmif.co.uk and use the 'Find a Service' function. You will also find details of RMIF members that sell new and used cars or motorcycles, provide vehicle servicing and repair, and sell petrol.

Motorists can also use the RMIF Consumer Motoline - 08457 58 53 50

This will enable you to find all RMIF members mentioned above, and in addition vehicle auctioneers and cherished number plate dealers.

Breaking up ain't hard to do

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF)

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle. That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD). A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility.

www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

End of the road? Get over it and move on with your local ATF.

HIGHWAYS AGENCY
ROAD TRAFFIC REGULATION ACT 1984 - SECTION 14(1)(a)

THE A14 TRUNK ROAD (M1 JUNCTION 19, LEICESTERSHIRE TO EXNING INTERCHANGE, NEWMARKET, SUFFOLK) (TEMPORARY RESTRICTION AND PROHIBITION OF TRAFFIC) ORDER 200

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Secretary of State for Transport intends to make an Order on the A14 Trunk Road between Junction 19 of the M1 in Leicestershire and Newmarket in Suffolk, to allow for the installation of variable message signs, foundations and associated ducts, cabling and control cabinets to be carried out in safety.

It is expected that the works would take overnight only (8pm-6am) covering 29 locations between Monday 1 June 2009 and Thursday 1 October 2010. The Order would come into force on 25 May 2009 and have a maximum duration of eighteen months.

The effect of the Order would be to -

- impose a 50 miles an hour speed limit, in conjunction with lane closures, on the eastbound and westbound carriageways of the A14 from its junction with the western roundabout at the M1/M6/A14 Cathorpe Interchange (Junction 19), Leicestershire, including the circularity carriageway of that roundabout, to the centre point of the under bridge at the A14/A142 Exning Interchange (Junction 37), Newmarket, Suffolk;

- prohibit vehicles with an overall width exceeding 4.1 metres from the length of trunk road described at (a) above (directing them to wait in a designated layby to be escorted through the works); and

- prohibit vehicles from entering or proceeding -

- in the A14 eastbound exit slip road leading to Rothwell Lodge, Rothwell Road (Junction 6), diverting vehicles to the Kettering North Roundabout (Junction 7) where they would join the westbound carriageway of the A14 back to exit at Junction 6;

- in any layby adjacent to the eastbound or westbound carriageway, or

- through a gap in the central reservation, of the length of trunk road described at (a) above.

The work would be carried out in 7 phases (4 - 6 weeks at each location) with the restrictions and prohibitions limited to a 4 kilometre length of trunk road at any one time.

Traffic signs would indicate the extent of the speed limit (which would not apply to emergency service vehicles), width restriction, layby and gap closures (which would not apply to works, emergency service or traffic officer vehicles).

Cambridge Research Institute Director of Operations

Competitive salary

Europe's top cancer charity, Cancer Research UK, has combined with the University of Cambridge to create the world class Cambridge Research Institute (CRI) situated on the Addenbrooke's Biomedical Campus in Cambridge.

The Institute's research ranges from basic cancer biology through translational research to clinical application. The Institute currently houses 300 researchers and contains brand new state-of-the-art research facilities.

The CRI is looking to appoint a Director of Operations offering an exciting leadership opportunity within a dynamic research Institute. The primary purpose of the role is to provide the Scientific Director with the administrative infrastructure and support to ensure the smooth running of the Institute. This will involve developing and delivering initiatives to drive forward the scientific direction of the Institute. As the Director of Operations you will have overall responsibility for staff recruitment, general staff and financial management, supervision of service laboratories and academic administration through the management of the academic committees.

You will have experience of management within an academic, research or clinical setting and an appropriate management qualification would be advantageous. A post graduate qualification in a scientific discipline, ideally biology or medical sciences would be highly desirable. You will have proven experience of business planning including budget setting, IT provision, facility and people management. Experience of managing a large budget is essential. You must have the ability to work constructively, collaboratively and productively with colleagues at all levels within the CRI and across Cancer Research UK.

Previous applicants need not re-apply.

You can find out more about the Cambridge Research Institute and apply for this role by visiting www.cambridgecancer.org.uk

Closing date for applications is 20 May 2009.

Partnership Development Manager 3 year fixed term contract starting May/June 2009

A joint bid by Cambridgeshire Advice Agencies has been successful in winning 'Advice Plus' Big Lottery funding for a new project 'Cambridgeshire Advice Hubs'.

This project aims to increase access to independent legal advice services across the County.

Based in Cambridge but covering the whole County, we are looking for someone who will manage a project to develop "one stop shops" or Mini Hubs via the brand of the "Advice Hub".

The three key objectives of the model are to:

- Increase access to core/generalist services.
- Ensure a full range of specialist level services for all clients who need them not just the select few.
- Make the best use of resources through efficiencies achieved by sharing knowledge across partnerships.

The Project Manager will be responsible for overseeing the project and delivering the business plan - in particular that person will be setting up common processes and procedures between partners.

The post will be employed by Cambridge CAB.

Salary is on point 33 NJC scale £27,573 full time and there is a 5% pension contribution.

For further information, job description, person specification and application form, please email jane@cambridgecab.org.uk

LOCATION: Haverhill

Salary: Negotiable depending on experience

Permanent, full time contract - 37.5 hours per week
(We would consider a permanent part time contract for the right candidate able to work > 25 hours per week)

We are currently looking to recruit a full time or part time office administrator / accounts clerk. The successful candidate should be self motivated, enthusiastic, with excellent all round administrative and IT skills, and should be familiar with Sage accounting and Microsoft Excel spread sheets.

The role would involve input of all computer records on Sage Line 50 accounts package, including purchase and sales invoicing. You will also be required to communicate and liaise with customers and suppliers, offering secretarial support to our sales team, preparation of daily UK despatch and export paperwork, as well as carrying out a number of other account and administrative matters associated with a busy sales office.

Benefits include a competitive salary and 28 days holiday (Pro rata - including statutory days)

To apply please send an email with a CV to: alex@proalloy.co.uk or send a CV to:

FOOTBALL CRICKET

Wilson's goal not enough for Angels

Woolpack 4 Delaware Feather Angels 1
Treadfirst Sudbury and District Sunday League, Division Five

DELAWARE failed to rekindle their form from the previous week and were comfortably beaten in their penultimate league game.

They were under persistent pressure and were two goals adrift at the break, a lead which was doubled before Kevin Wilson grabbed a consolation goal after being put through by Matt Cullen.

In a fiery final 10 minutes, Woolpack reduced to 10 men after a straight red card. Wilson then earned a penalty which Chris Stock was unable to convert.

Glorious Gupta sinks Felixstowe

AMIT Gupta did the damage with bat and ball for Haverhill in their five-wicket success at Felixstowe in the Marshall Hatchick Two Counties League, Division Two.

Playing his first game of the season, Gupta claimed 3 for 40 and took two catches as the hosts made 200 for 9.

The Indian all-rounder then blasted an unbeaten 122 to help Haverhill to 202 for 5.

■ Weston Colville skipper Adie Westley got the response he had called for from his players as they eased to a seven-wicket win over Babraham in Division Two of the Tucker Gardner Cams and Hunts Premier League.

The hosts batted first but struggled to pile on the runs. Opener Tom McNulty was their top scorer with 29 but, with little support, Babraham were all out for just 82, Matt Daniels and Fred Scruby taking three wickets apiece.

Weston Colville's Trevor Westley hit 42 not out and, with brother Adie, ensured they reached their target with seven wickets to spare.

■ Rychard Scrase-Field and captain

Mihir Vagh shared a crucial 93-run stand to steer Cambridge St Giles to success at Horseheath in the Cheffins CCA Senior League, Division One

The pair came together with their side struggling on 65 for 5, but Scrase-Field hit an unbeaten 53 and Vagh was 40 not out as they recovered to reach a winning 158 for 5. Martin Giles (3 for 31) was the hosts' best bowler.

The visitors had earlier dismissed their opponents for 157, with Alan Roger claiming 3 for 21. Dan Goldsmith (36) and Alan Ketteridge (31) did well with the bat for Horseheath, but their skipper, Gary Ellis, felt they underperformed.

He said: "If we'd got another wicket when they were 65 for 5 then I think we'd have won it, but it got away from us. We bowled well, but we didn't bat well enough."

■ Sawston made a good start to their Adams Harrison Midweek League, Division One campaign, beating defending champions Babraham, thanks to an unbeaten 51 from Simon Potger. Neil Winter slammed 71 as

Haverhill A 24 Priors 8
East Suffolk Summer League
HAVERHILL made a lightning start, ending the first quarter 8-0 ahead, but then took their foot off the gas.

They did not get their act together until Priors cut into their lead.

However, by the final quarter normal service had been resumed and, backed by some excellent defensive interceptions, Haverhill eased clear.

Their players of the match were Heather Sangster and Jade Killingback.

AFTER a very slow start, Haverhill went on to win their second game out of three this season.

The gusty wind provided problems, so it paid to keep passes short and accurate.

With the change of tactic, Haverhill started to accumulate goals, with Sharne Leicester and Leanne Tilly taking the player of the match awards.

COLTS FOOTBALL

Bush on fire as Wratting storm in

West Wratting 16 Godmanchester Rov B 0
Cambridge and District Colts League, under-12D

WEST Wratting sealed promotion in style, their blistering second-half performance earning a thumping win.

Bush (6), Bailey (2), Torode (2), Stevenson (2), Cooper, Scotton, Foster, and Lambert scored the goals to cap a solid team display, with Gedny pulling the strings in midfield.

And their second-half blitz – they scored 12 times – helped them emulate the club's seniors, reserves and under-nines who all finished top of their divisions.

Burwell Tigers 0 West Wratting Youth 1
Cambridge and District Colts League, under-12D

A SOLITARY goal from man of the match Ollie Stevenson gave Wratting the points from their first evening game of the season.

The unstoppable drive into the right-hand corner of the goal proved the difference between the side. However, as Burwell pushed, for an equaliser, Wratting keeper Millar made some outstanding saves.

Grampian Gunners A 7 Haverhill Rov 0

Cams Mini League League, under-10

GUNNERS took their time to click into gear, but when they did they eased into a 4-0 lead at half time.

It needed a good save from their keeper Woodley to wake them up and, from a host of chances, Jones, Robson, an own goal, and Thompson put them in charge at the break.

Fletcher and two goals for Henderson finished off Rovers.

West Wratting 10

Thurlow 2

Under-11 friendly

WEST Wratting eased 3-0 ahead in a game organised to prepare the side for the step up to 11-a-side.

Jack Harvey, Jesse Luff and an own goal scored the goals, and although Scott Robins narrowed the arrears from the penalty spot, Charlie Ellam made it 4-1.

Cameron Larkin made it 4-2 at half time, but Wratting came to the boil as the temperatures rose, Dion Whitrid (2), Mo Horsley, two more for Ellam, and one for Leyton George completing the scoring

Under pressure: Action from the under-11 final. CP

Rovers' final woe

Haverhill Rov 1 Newmarket Town 2
Cambridge and District Colts League, Under-11 Knockout Cup final

DESPITE taking the lead in the first half, Rovers ran out of luck and missed out on the Knockout Cup.

With both sides each boasting a very strong passing pedigree, the final proved to be a quality game, and after Alex Carter twice fired narrowly wide, Paul Jenkinson's sweet right-footed lofted shot sailed over the keeper to give Haverhill a deserved lead.

However, they could not build on it and Newmarket bounced back after the break.

In four minutes, the young Jockeys went from being a goal down to being a goal ahead after well-worked set-pieces.

After surviving the pressure, Rovers rallied, but the best they could manage was a Carter shot that thumped against the foot of the post.

Golf

Haverhill are right up to the Mark . . .

THE Haverhill club has become only the second club in Suffolk to be awarded the EGU/EWGA GolfMark, incorporating ClubMark, accreditation.

It means they will be nationally recognised as a junior and beginner friendly club.

But what has delighted the membership is that the award has been made at the High Achiever level which shows they have met additional criteria over the minimum standards required to achieve GolfMark.

By retaining Paul Wilby as their professional the club – also a starter centre for the Golf Foundation – have ensured a bright future.

Wilby heads his own junior academy and also throughout May will be offering free adult coaching.

Eight 90 minute sessions, mainly mixed but some for ladies only, have been so far set aside.

They are on Saturday (9am-10.30am, mixed), Thursday May 14 (10am-11.30am, mixed), Saturday May 16 (9am-10.30am, mixed), Saturday May 23 (9am-10.30am, mixed), Monday May 25 (10am-11.30am, ladies only), Saturday May 30 (9am-10.30am, mixed), Sunday May 31 (2.30pm-4pm, mixed).

RELEGATED ROVERS BLAME INJURY PROBLEMS, BUT FEEL THEY CAN COME STRAIGHT BACK

Players out to prove a point: Betts

Haverhill Rov 0 Leiston 2

Ridgeons League, Premier Division

PETER Betts is optimistic Haverhill Rovers will bounce back after their relegation from the top flight of the Ridgeons League.

The home defeat by Leiston on Saturday left Rovers rooted to the bottom of the table, but Betts said: "It will be a hard summer but I'm looking forward to it."

"It will be good to have a pre-season and to start from scratch instead of playing catch-up all the time."

"We've had a long injury list all season and, if we can get those players fit, we'll be challenging to get promotion next year."

"The players are frustrated the season has been disrupted by injuries and want to prove a point next season, so I think most of them will stay."

Neil Cogger, Mark Abbott, Paul Abbott, Gareth Thomas, Joe Harvey,

>> How they finished

	P	W	D	L	F	A	Pts
Wivenhoe	40	12	2	26	65	105	38
Woodbridge Tn	40	9	10	21	52	77	37
Norwich Utd	40	8	10	22	46	74	34
Harwich & Pktn	40	9	6	25	47	98	33
Haverhill Rovers	40	7	7	26	42	96	28

Neil Hammond and Craig Cutts were among the injured players and Betts said: "The core of those players would be automatic starters, but unfortunately our fringe players were not quite good enough to play at this level week in, week out."

The final game against Leiston underlined those problems when centre-back Craig Smith picked up an injury after just 20 minutes.

However, the game remained goalless until first-half stoppage time. And despite chances for Ryan Kent and Shaun Banham, who were denied by the keeper, Leiston got their second in stoppage time.
